QUESTION 3 - (10 marks)

Explain the following and record your explanations on your cassette after your recording for question 2(c).

(a) One of your classmates is having difficulty in pronouncing the two words underlined in the following sentences:

i. The bank is by the bookshop.

ii. There was a loud bang

She pronounces both words in the same way, that is [beŋ].

Point out her mistakes and explain to her precisely how the words are pronounced.

(b) One word has been underlined in each of the following sentences. Write the phonetic transcription of the word underlined in the brackets after the sentence and explain how the pronunciation of the underlined word in (i) differs from that in (ii).

i. They are holding him as a suspect. [_____]

ii. They suspect him of the murder. [_____]

(c) In the following sentence underline the stressed syllables and below each identify the vowel sound.

His father was hungry and ate them all up.

Explain how one should read the sentence paying particular attention to rhythm.

(d) Read the following short dialogue giving each sentence the correct tune.

Sally: What a beautiful dress!

Khamariah: No it isn't.

It's ugly.

Explain the tunes you have used for each sentence and why.

QUESTION 4 - (10 marks)

- (a) Read aloud the following passage and record your reading on your cassette after your recordings for question 3.

An oppressive odour met us when we crossed the threshold, an odour I had met many times in rain-rotted grey houses where there are coal-oil lamps, water dippers, and unbleached domestic sheets. It always made me afraid, expectant, watchful.

In the corner of the room was a brass bed, and in the bed was Mrs Dubose [djubouz]. I wondered if Jem's activities had put her there, and for a moment I felt sorry for her. She was lying under a pile of quilts and looked almost friendly.

There was a marble-topped washstand by her bed; on it were a glass with a teaspoon in it, a red ear syringe, a box of absorbent cotton, and a steel alarm clock standing on three tiny legs.

'So you brought that dirty little sister of yours, did you?' was her greeting.

Jem said quietly, 'My sister ain't dirty and I ain't scared of you,' although I noticed his knees shaking.

I was expecting a tirade, but all she said was, 'You may commence reading, Jeremy.'

Jem sat down in a cane-bottom chair and opened Ivanhoe. I pulled up another one and sat beside him.

'Come closer,' said Mrs Dubose. 'Come to the side of the bed.'

We moved our chairs forward. This was the nearest I had ever been to her, and the thing I wanted most to do was move my chair back again.

She was horrible.

- (b) Read each of the following sentences twice, making your readings as different as possible from each other by varying the expression. Record your reading after your recording for question 4(a).

- i. You should have told me everything.
- ii. What's the matter with you?
- iii. They stayed until midnight.
- iv. He's very charming
- v. I don't believe you.
