Zoom in PHS: MALAYSIANA AND ARCHIVES DIVISION

USM Library has successfully collected and obtained information sources in various form and format. Materials accepted under Books Preservation Act 1966 became the basis of Malaysiana collection. Later, Malaysiana and Archives Division was set up in 1982. The collection encompasses publication of materials on Malaysia, Singapore and Brunei. With the objective of preservation as well as the provision of local references, the collection is popular among researchers from within and abroad. Apart from the core, there are also private collections such as Gerald Hawkins, personal files of Kassim Ahmad, oral history collections, rare books, photographs and archives.

Zoom in PHS: MALAYSIANA AND ARCHIVES DIVISION

This division is located on the third floor of PHS (new building). Collections in this division are made up of the following:-

Malaysiana Collection

Consists of printed materials about Malaysia, Singapore and Brunei Darussalam which also include journals published in Malaysia. However non-print Malaysiana materials are excluded as they require special storage conditions. The prefix rbm in the classification number of an item indicates that the item is kept in this section.

Archive Collection (Arkib)

This is a collection of printed materials about USM. Amongst the collection are books and reports. Also included are books written by USM researchers and staff consist of books, theses, final year students projects and any other research reports.

Photographs that had captured past events on USM campus are also kept as part of this collection. Some include photos of old buildings on campus.

Arkib is used to indicate the category and location of the printed materials. If the material is Arkib, it will be indicated in the "notes" column of KRISALIS when the user retrieve the information from the library catalogue.

Rare Books Collection

Most of the rare books in the collection are about Malaya which were published before 1945. As for other countries outside Malaysia only books published before 1900 are termed rare. However, this section does have some other collections (non-Malaysiana) that are difficult to obtain (out-of-print). A prefix bn is used in the call number to denote the location of these items in PHS.

Note: All collections within this division are for reference only. Items can be borrowed for reference in the division. Services are rendered from 8.30 – 4.30pm daily except on Saturdays and Sundays.

Special Collections

These collections are specific to a subject or period in time. They have been contributed by special contributors. Among them are:-

Gerald Hawkins Collection

The late Mr. Gerald Hawkins was a member of the pre-independence Malayan Civil Service. He was considered as an expert in Malayan history and wrote on a wide variety of subjects in newspapers, including topics on wildlife and tree-planting, politics, public admin, education and social sciences. A symbol H is used in the call numbers to identify the location of the materials.

Muhammad Haji Salleh Collection

National Laureate Prof. Muhammad Haji Salleh, our is an educator and a prominent literary figure. He received the National Laureate Award in 1991. His literary writings include novels, poetry, prose, critiques and theories both in Malay and English. He held the position of lecturer and professor UKM (1970 -1999) and USM (2000 - 2006). His collection consists of a wide range of subjects reflecting his wide readership ranging from literature, management, history, social science, science, religion and fiction which are not only in Malay or English but also Thai, German, Japanese and other languages.
